SPEAKER DETAILS

Dr Ted Wu MBBS, PhD, FRACP

Senior Staff Specialist Endocrinologist, The Royal Prince Alfred (RPA) Hospital
Visiting Medical Officer at Dubbo Base Hospital

Dr Ted Wu is a senior specialist endocrinologist, the Director of the Diabetes Centre and Director of Physician Training at The Royal Prince Alfred Hospital in Sydney. As well as clinical diabetes, he has had a long-term interest in both teaching and research.

Within the Diabetes Centre at the RPA Hospital, Dr Wu has formulated and delivered novel educational programs in clinical diabetes since 1998. These have included CD-ROM based, internet, radio, teleconference, social media, international preceptorships and interactive webinar initiatives. He has also been instrumental in establishing the RPA Diabetes Centre as an "International Diabetes Federation Centre of Education" and NADC Centre of Excellence. Outside of diabetes, he has also been responsible for overseeing the post-graduate education of junior medical officers in the RPA network of hospitals across the state of NSW since 2002, and helped to codify the standards of junior doctor education across the state of NSW
