My Health Record Expansion education session

Following the My Health Record expansion program, all Australians will have a record by the end of 2018 unless they indicate that they do not want one. This will support timely access to important health information by both patients and their treating healthcare providers, and improve patient health outcomes.

This education session will introduce the My Health Record system and explore its features and functionalities, and benefits and uses, as they relate to your Health sector. The education session will prepare participants to engage with the system and integrate it with their clinical workflow.
